

Parents of Bright and Gifted Students 2009-2010 Workshops

Workshop 1: Time Management and Organization

October 28, 2009

6:30 p.m.-8:00 p.m.

Landstown High School Schola

This seminar will focus on practical tools and skills that can be used to help your child become better at organizing and managing time. Frequently, bright and gifted students have so many interests and their minds race so rapidly that organization is an afterthought. Unfortunately, the child may learn in the early grade levels that they do not have to be organized to get good grades. They often rely on their reasoning skills and creativity to bail them out if they forget or misplace something. Such tactics fail to save the student as the academics become more challenging and complex and sophisticated work products are expected of them. Join with us in sharing ways to help our children develop the organizational and time management skills they will need to be successful throughout their academic careers (and beyond).

Workshop 2: Perfectionism

February 24, 2010

6:30 p.m.-8:00 p.m.

Landstown High School Schola

This seminar will focus on how we can help our perfectionistic children remain emotionally healthy and academically successful. Many bright and gifted students have strong perfectionistic tendencies. These tendencies can have both positive and negative impacts. The school and the home need to be aware of these impacts and provide the nurture and support that will allow our students to thrive without diminishing their appetite for healthy competition. Join us if you would like to share your experiences, learn about the research in this area, and hear practical suggestions for raising a child who likes things to be just perfect.
